Disturbing Element.

Such Evils at Present on the Nezperce Reservation.

THREE PEOPLE ARE ARRESTED.

A Thorough Investigation to Be Made at Once—Change in the White House Receptions — Presidential Appointments. Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A telegram has been received at the interior department from Lewiston, Idaho, saying that Special Agent Heth and two employes of the Nezperce reservation had been arrested by the civil authorities. Mr. Heth has been having trouble with some of the agency employes and it is thought at the department that his arrest has been secured by an employe named Williams.

There has been trouble on the Nezperse reservation between the agent and the employes for several years. It grew so serious that Special Agent Heth was sent to relieve Agent Norris about two months ago. This has not quieted matters as the present difficulties show. Special Agent Welton, who is now at Umatilla, has been directed to take charge of the Nezperce agency and a thorough investigation was ordered by the Indian office with a view to removing from the reservation every white person who has held any guilty part in the disturbances there.

When to Call at the White House.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Commencing to-day the hours of reception at the White House will be changed. Instead of commencing at 11 o'clock, the president will remain in executive session until 11, and on cabinet days will close promptly at 12. On Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays the time for hearings will be extended to 12:30. On Mondays there will be no reception at all, except the regular public affair, which will as in the past take place at 1 o'clock. The result of this change, which was announced yesterday by Secretary Halford, will be a saving to the president of at least six or seven working hours of each week and a corresponding degree of increase in the number of appointments made. The diminution of the reception hours will not, therefore, be as the office-seeker will at first imagine to be.

Military Academy Visitors.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The names of the persons appointed as the board of visitors to the military academy has been announced. They are as follows: Hon. C. K. Davis, of St. Paul, Minn.; Hon. J. W. Daniel, of Lynchburg, Va., by the senate; Hon. S. M. Robertson, of Baton Rouge, La.; Hon. S. S. Yoder, of Lima, O., Hon. George W. Shute, of Marion, Ind., and Professor Leroy D. Brown, of Reno, Nev.; Professor C. M. Pinkerton, of Perry, Iowa; Rev. Dr. B. W. Childlaw, of Clare, O.; Rev. Arthur Edwards, of Chicago; Dr. Nathan S. Lincoln, of Washington, D. C.; Capt Charles King, U. S. A., retired, Milwaukee, Wis., and Gen. Lew Wallace, of Crawfordsville, Indiana.

To be Indian agents—James Blythe, of North Carolina, at the Eastern Cherokee agency in North Carolina; John Fosher, of Wyoming territory, at the Shoshone agency in Wyoming territory.

Callers on the President.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The only visitors who saw the president yesterday were Senator Farwell, First Comptroller Asa Matthews and the Hon. Paul Selby, who was for so long the editor of The Illinois State Journal. The senator was especially interested in Capt. Meredith, and wanted to know why his commission as chief of the bureau of engraving and printing had not been signed. It is believed now that the appointment of Meredith will be announced on Wednesday.

Pensioners, Don't Be Alarmed.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The statement having been telegraphed over the country that the pension appropriation has become exhausted, Commissioner Tanner expresses the hope that the pensioners will not be unduly alarmed thereby. The fact is that he has simply made the usual requisition which sends the money from the treasury into the various United States depositories, where it will be subject to the checks of the pension agents for the June payment.

On a Tour of Inspection.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The naval inspection board, of which Rear Admiral Jewett is president, has been ordered to the New York and the League island navy yards for the purpose of making an appraisement of all United States vessels there. This is in pursuance of the system instituted of keeping a correct account of all public property in the control of the navy department, both as to description and value.

Northern Capital Invested in Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 21.—Four steel mill and blast furnaces, to employ 1,000 men, will be built at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., near the Virginia line. The company, with a capital stock of $3,000,000, is made up of northern iron masters and English capitalists.

TORNADO TORN.

Many Houses Wrecked in the Lackawanna Valley, Pennsylvania.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 21.—A terrific wind and rain storm, which afterwards turned into a tornado, swept through Lackawanna valley yesterday afternoon. Many houses were wrecked, fences blown down, barns demolished, and whole orchards ruined. Houses occupied by Charles Robinson and Charles White were swept from their foundations and all the inmates injured.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 21.—A severe storm passed over this city yesterday afternoon. Very little damage was done here, however, but at Clark's Green, a village eight miles north, the wind came on with frightful velocity, blowing down trees, wrecking small outbuildings and completely leveling to the ground a dwelling in course of erection, which was nearly completed. Two large frame barns were lifted from their foundations and shattered to pieces, orchards were laid waste and fences were town down. No such tornado had been experienced in this region in years. No loss of life is reported.

HILLSDALE, Mich., May 21.—The long drouth is ended. Yesterday afternoon there was a short but very heavy rain. The very hot and dry weather for the last four weeks has hurt the crops seriously.

JOINED IN MATRIMONY.

Mrs. Cleveland's Mother and H. E. Perrin Married at Jackson, Michigan.

JACKSON, Mich., May 21.—The wedding of Mr. H. E. Perrin and Mrs. Emma Folsom, mother of Mrs. Grover Cleveland was solemnized at 9 o'clock yesterday evening, the Rev. R. B. Balcom, of St. Paul's episcopal church, officiating. The bride was attired in her traveling costume. The guests present besides Mrs. Cleveland and the family of Mrs. Cadman, aunt of the bride, were Mr. and Mrs. G. Barrett Rich, the latter a daughter of the groom, and their two sons from Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Flinn, of Detroit; Mr. Herman and Mrs. Frank Welch, of Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Perrin left on the night train for Chicago and the west for a trip before returning to Buffalo to reside. Mrs. Cleveland will remain for a few days as the guest of Mrs. Cadman before leaving for home.

Mr. Henry E. Perrin is a well known citizen of Buffalo. He is about 60 years of age. Mr. Perrin's first wife was, it is said, a first or second cousin of Mrs. Oscar Folsom. He has two sons and one daughter, the latter being Mrs. G. Barrett Rich, wife of the president of the Bank of Attica, of Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. Perrin will make their home at Buffalo after this week.

BRODIE'S LAST JUMP.

In Pursuit of a Wild Ambition He Rivals the Lamented Sam Patch.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Steve Brodie, the bridge jumper, jumped over Passaic Falls yesterday morning and came off without damage. For the past three months Brodie has entertained an idea that it was necessary in order to perfect his record as a jumper from high elevations to rival the lamented Sam Patch by jumping from some of the places which the latter gentleman had honored by his presence.

This idiotic whim culminated about March 1 in an expensive trip to Rochester, where he was only deterred from jumping over the Genesee Falls by the fact that there was only five feet of water under them. It will be remembered that Patch lost his life at this place by jumping from a platform erected at one side of the falls, and that his body was not recovered for several days.

After failing in this endeavor, Steve looked with longing eyes toward the Passaic falls, over which Patch jumped with safety a short time previous to his leap at Rochester. He made an investigation of the falls, and decided that it could be done, and yesterday morning did it.

Accused of Poisoning.

OMAHA, Neb., May 21.—A woman named Mrs. Scott, and her daughter, named Carrie Emaker, a pretty girl of 14, were arrested last night charged with putting arsenic in the coffee of Lewis Marvin, an elderly man for whom they were keeping house. Marvin drank the coffee last evening for supper. He is dying. He says the women were after his furniture.

Driven from Home by White Caps.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., May 21.—David Still, of Hopkins county, was visited by a party of White Caps, who threw his furniture and household goods out into the road and broke most of it up, after which they warned him to leave the country and return no more. Taking his large family with him he left for parts unknown.

Fatal Result of a Quarrel.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 21.—In the woods near Coalburg mines, ten miles from this city, a crowd of negroes were shooting craps. A quarrel over the game ended in a fight, in which John Webster was shot dead by some one so far unknown. Some of the other players were slightly wounded.

In Honor of a King.

Germany's Capital Magnificently Decorated.

THE VISIT OF KING HUMBERT,

Of Italy, and His Son to Berlin to Be Made a Great Event — More Bomb Throwing — Other Happenings Across the Atlantic.

LONDON, May 21.—The decoration of Berlin in honor of the visit of King Humbert, of Italy, and his son, the Prince of Naples, is of the most elaborate description. The railway station at which he will alight from his special train in which he is traveling, is profusely draped with Italian and German flags, banners, streamers, etc., and upon the square adjoining the station a magnificent arch has been erected, under which the Italian delegation will greet the royal visitor.

Directly in front of the arch stands a colossal figure of Berolina. In the Potsdamer platz a superb temple has been erected and in Opera square, between the Imperial opera house and the palace, has been placed an allegorical group representing Germany and Italy in the closest bonds of friendship. The directors of the Italian Benevolent society of Berlin desired to figure prominently in the reception of the king, as did also the heads of several other Italian associations, but in pursuance of a suggestion from Rome the police will only permit delegates representing these societies to present written addresses. This decision is a sad blow to the vanity of several would-be orators who had prepared and rehearsed speeches of welcome. As all of the principal streets will be closed after 9 o'clock in the morning, traffic will necessarily be suspended during the day.

Pigott's Insurance.

LONDON, May 21.—The manager of English and Scottish Law Life Insurance company, states that there remains in the hands of the concern a surplus of £830, which would ordinarily be due to the heirs of Pigott, the suicide of the informer nullifies the policy on his life, but owing to the distressing circumstances of his children the full amount will be paid to the orphans.

Opinion of London Physicians.

LONDON, May 21.—Two prominent physicians of London, who were personally well acquainted with the late Washington Irving Bishop, the mind reader, and who have received from New York a detailed account of his presumed death at the Lambs' club, unhesitatingly express their opinion that the subsequent autopsy was prematurely performed.

Workingmen's Insurance Bill.

BERLIN, May 21.—There is no little doubt that the aged workmen's insurance bill will be passed by the reichstag. It is understood that the members of the parties usually supporting the government but opposed to this particular measure, will absent themselves when a vote is taken on the question of passing the bill and its success is virtually assured.

More Bombs Thrown.

BERLIN, May 21.—While an immense crowd of people were assembled to witness the launching of a new cruiser at Trieste yesterday, three petards were thrown at the palace of the Stadthalter by Irridentists. The noise caused by the explosion of the bombs created a panic, under cover of which the miscreants escaped.

Boucicault's Play to Be Sold.

LONDON, May 21.—As a result of the absolute divorce recently granted to Mrs. Agnes Boucicault from her husband, Dion Boucicault, the sheriff will almost immediately sell the English copyright of his plays, and turn over the proceeds to his former wife.

One Hundred Lives Lost.

VIENNA, May 21.—The number of persons drowned in the recent floods is placed at one hundred. The Pilsen district is still submerged.

A STEAMER ON FIRE.

The John Hopkins Burned to the Water's Edge at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 21.—The steamship John Hopkins was burned to the water's edge last night. Fire was discovered in the hold of the vessel shortly before midnight, while she was lying at Pier No. 6. She was immediately towed out into and down the stream to Fort McHenry. The city fire department responded promptly to the alarm, but were prevented from going to the steamship by military authorities at the fort. The only route by which the ship could be reached from the south shore lay through the grounds of the fort, but the soldiers barred the way and would not allow the firemen to proceed. During the parley between the firemen and Uncle Sam's troops the flames were spreading rapidly, their only opposition coming from the tug Convoy, which threw a stream on her, but in fifteen minutes she was burned to the water's edge.

The John Hopkins was the property of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation line. She was 1,470 tons gross register, 242 feet long, 38 feet breadth of beam and 16 feet depth of hold. She was built at Wilmington, Del., in 1883.

Disappeared With $8,000.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—Albert F. Schwab, aged 22, the local manager for the Green Tree Brewing company, of St. Louis, has disappeared, leaving a shortage of about $8,000 in his accounts. His associations with a woman are supposed to have caused the trouble.

SAMOA AFFAIRS.

The Latest News from That Away Off Foreign Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The Trenton's officers, who arrived on the Rockton, include Capt. Farquhar, Lieuts. Brown, Reamy and Scott, Engineers Main, Galt, Matthews, Surgeon White, Chaplain McAllister, and some of the petty officers. Admiral Kimberly, with Lieuts. Merriam and Rittenhouse of his staff remain at Apia. Lieutenant Commander Lyon, Lieuts. Graham and Allen, Medical Inspector White, Surgeon Norfleet, Pay Inspector Clark, Captain of Marines Huntington and others of the Trenton have been transferred to the Nipsic.

The Nipsic's rudder has been replaced, and the vessel will sail for Auckland when the Alert arrives.

The ship Rapid has raised the British flag at Suworrow, claiming the island as British territory. Mataafa has thanked Admiral Kimberly for his proclamation advising peace. The king hopes the admiral will act as umpire of existing disputes, and says Samoa would be happy again if the United States would become her sole protector. The admiral, in reply, assured Mataafa that the United States would do all possible to secure a settlement, in which Samoan rights would be observed. The admiral has also received and forwarded to Washington a letter from a Tamasoses. Its contents are not made public, but the tone of the letter is not believed to be conciliatory. Herr Steubel, the new German consul, has arrived at Apia.

As Reported to Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Commodore Walker, who is acting secretary of the navy, has received the following dispatch from Capt. Farquhar, who is now in San Francisco, and who commanded the Trenton:

"Arrived, Rockton, bound for Mare's Island, with Capt. Farquhar, Lieuts. Brown, Reamey, Scott, Past Assistant Engineers Main, Galt, Matthews, Chaplain McAllister, Assistant Surgeon White, Boatswain McLaughlin, Carpenter Fernald, Sailmaker Boutwell, of the Trenton; Lieuts. Coulin, Wilson, Culver, Ensign Gibbons, Heath, Chief Engineer Greene, Past Assistant Engineer Webster, Surgeon Harvey, of the Vandalia; Ensign Field, of the Nipsic, 303 men from the Trenton, and 141 from the Vandalia. Seven officers and seventy-six men were left at Samoa to finish the work of wrecking.

"The admiral wishes steamers sent for them. Steamers from Auckland are convenient if the department can arrange to have them call at Apia. The admiral has issued a proclamation to Samoans advising peace. The armies are disbanding to await the result of the Berlin conference. There is famine among the natives, caused by destruction of crops during the recent hurricane. The admiral requests authority to issue rations to them. I am ordered to Washington and will start as soon as possible. FARQUHAR."

As some time must elapse before the next mail steamer leaves for Samoa the authority necessary to enable Admiral Kimberly to issue rations cannot be sent immediately.

At 2 o'clock a masked mob overpowered the jailer and dragged the negro to a slaughter house on the outskirts of the town, where a noose was fixed around his neck and the end of the rope thrown over the snatch block. Thornton was left to strangle and was found dead by the butcher at daylight this morning.

Presbyterians South.

Proceedings of the General Assembly at Chattanooga.

THE WORK OF THE FOURTH DAY.

A Plan of Operation Between the Two Factions in the Church — Reports of Committees—The Next Session Will Be Held in Asheville, North Carolina.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 21.—The fourth days' work of the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterians was a busy one. The most important decision was that the committee had decided favorable to the plan of co-operation between the southern and northern assemblies as previously reported by the joint committee of the two bodies. This result was arrived at after a session of several hours.

The committee representing laity and clergy of each synod in the south had a majority of two to one in favor of the report, and the feeling of the assembly in its favor is thought to be in the same ratio. The co-operation plan will be advocated without any modification. This will be in the nature of a surprise, as it was expected that adverse action would be taken. If this committee's report is adopted by a decisive vote it will be a long step towards the organic union of the two grand divisions of the North and South church.

Co-operation is recommended in the educational and literary work of the domestic and foreign missions.

The evangelization of the negroes in effect is almost a complete union.

A request from the Lafayette Synod that the headquarters of the committee on foreign missions be removed from Baltimore to Louisville, was referred to the committee.

The report of the committee on Sabbath observance was submitted. It contained complaints especially against Sunday newspapers, trains and saloons.

The committee on revision of the directory of public worship recommended: That session can require a public profession of faith, and made it a special order for Wednesday's meeting. The assembly decided in answer to an overture to report at the next assembly the concentrated efforts to evangelize the negro race.

The celebrated Woodrow case came up accidentally in the report of the committee to pass on the action of the South Carolina synod against the Presbytery of Charleston.

The synod passed a resolution declaring the action of the Charleston synod unconstitutional, irregular and unwise, in passing a resolution which declared that the general assembly has judicially affirmed the decision of the synod of Georgia, in declaring the belief of Rev. Mr. Woodrow, as to the origin of the City of Adam contrary to the word of God misinterpreted in the standards of the church, and this Presbytery regards the holding of the said form of the belief in the evolution as contrary to the word of God, and forbids the public contending against the decision of the assembly.

The synod in passing on this declared the action "a trespass upon the sacred and inalienable right of private judgment which belongs to every court and all members of the church of Jesus Christ," and directed the presbytery of Charleston to convene and correct the proceedings.

The committee of the assembly in the afternoon recommended, first, that the action of the synod be approved so far as it declares the action of the Charleston presbytery "unwise." Second, that it be disapproved together with the reasons assigned so far as it declares the action of the Charleston presbytery unconstitutional and irregular.

After a long speech in behalf of the synod, Rev. Mr. Whaley, of the South Carolina assembly, the assembly adjourned to resume the discussion in the morning.

It is believed that the synod will be sustained.

The assembly voted to hold its next session at Asheville, N. C. The assembly will not hold a session to-night.

PITTSBURG, May 21.—The nailers at Jones & Laughlin's American iron works have accepted a reduction of 25 per cent. on cold nails and 12½ per cent. on hot nails. OFFERING A HEAVY REWARD.

If Dr. Cronin Has Been Killed His Friends Want to Know It.

CHICAGO, May 21. The friends of Dr. Cronin, who mysteriously disappeared two weeks ago, are so firmly convinced now that Cronin has been made the victim of a conspiracy and foul play, and that he has been murdered, that they have offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any of his murderers, principals or accessories.

To disabuse the public mind of the impression that the doctor is still alive, and that his disappearance was voluntary, his friends have offered a further reward of $2,000 for any satisfactory evidence that will prove that he is not dead, and that would lead to the discovery of his whereabouts.

Pennsylvania Odd Fellows.

YORK, Pa., May 21.—The Grand Encampment I. O. O. F., of Pennsylvania, met here yesterday. The proposal to admit members at the age of eighteen years was defeated—yeas 33, nays 39. This is understood to also indicate the sentiment of the Grand lodge which meets to-day. Right Worthy Grand Chief Patriarch Amos Hall, of Philadelphia, and the other newly elected officers were installed.

SINCE appointments are being announced in the Ninth district there is perceptible nervousness on the part of the many postoffice aspirants in this city, and other points, for that matter, too. Perhaps the thing is settled, and the fates are known, but the suspense will not end until the announcement is made. The STAR has a positive to the effect that Knapp, Munteger, Cox, Titus, Fogleson or Humphrey will get the Marion appointment.

THE people are beginning to rave about the abominable and expensive class of street improvement, and public opinion will soon bring about some reform. Of course it can't be expected that all the streets can be paved in modern manner at once, but the worst repairs can be stopped and the most improvement be made properly. During the crushed stone controversy, while figuring how to buy at the greatest expense, was a good time to the ... quitting the use of them.

Thousands of Cats.

"When I was living in a steamboat town on the Mississippi," remarked an old man in a barber's shop a few days ago, "there was a fellow who put up a very neat job on the inhabitants, or most whom became thoroughly disgusted with life. He came into the town one day and distributed hand bills right and left, taking special pains to put as many as possible into the hands of farmers who came to sell their grain. That was just as the railroads came to take the trade away from the river towns, some of which had an immense trade.

"The place I was in had 5,000 or 6,000 inhabitants, and was the shipping point for all the grain raised for miles around, as well as the place where the farmers obtained all their supplies. The last time I was there it had dwindled down to a village of 2,000, and perhaps by this time it has no existence at all, even on the map. These bills that were so freely scattered about stated that the advertiser had a contract with a certain steamboat company for furnishing a large number of cats to destroy the rats and mice that were very numerous about the warehouses at different landings along the river. He therefore offered $3 for each full grown tom cat, $2 for each healthy female puss, and 50 cents a head for kittens old enough to get their own living. All the cats were to be delivered at a certain place in the town on a Thursday evening—the night that a particular boat was due.

"Well, that Thursday afternoon come and all the streets of the town were just crowded with people. They came in wagons, on foot, and on horseback, and every person carried a sack, some of them several. By evening between 3,000 and 4,000 cats had been brought into that defenseless city. They were hit in and and about a vacant building near the landing. The man who was to purchase the cats was nowhere in sight. The country people were making inquiries for him everywhere. A crowd of boys, attracted by the caterwauling, went into the building and began amusing themselves by untying the bags and letting out the cats. Of course the cats began fighting and raised a noise like 10,000 demons.

"Suddenly a stampede occurred and the animals rushed pell mell into the crowd, crawling over people, jumping and fighting, and climbing walls and roofs in a mad race for liberty. The boys took after the cats and the men joined in, determined to rid the town of the feline invaders. The next morning there was a good many stray cats seen about in back yards, and a good many dead cats lying in the streets and alleys. One boatman said he counted 100 dead cats in the river. The man who perpetrated the joke was never again seen in the place, luckily for him."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Up to the present time the Canadian government has given 10,000,000 acres of land to railroad companies.

About 2,500,000 people traveled on the Manhattan Elevated railway during the three days of the centennial.

It is estimated that Americans will spend $10,000,000 in Europe this season, of which probably $3,000,000 will go for tips.

An authority on the subject says it is safe to say requirements will call for 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 railroad ties this year.

More than 1,000 empty patent medicine bottles were found in the house of a suicide recently who died at Knoxville, Pa., lately.

Of the fifty or more ambitious writers who have attempted to fill Josh Billings' shoes, not one has succeeded in attracting attention.

About the only real fence in Cleveland, curious to say, is in the most aristocratic portion of the city, on Euclid avenue, near Case.

A Milwaukee man has designed an apparatus by which he claims that water may be successfully burned in a cook stove or ordinary heater.

Brussels lace is distinguished here if by a bonnet show. The first prize was given to a "flat, oyster-shell sort of contrivance, decorated with raspberries."

Dr. Richardson has invented a lethal muzzle by which dogs or horses injured in the street may be killed in a few minutes as painlessly as in the lethal chamber.

The largest circulation on record is that attained by the volume "Hymns, Ancient and Modern." Twenty million copies have been sold in the eighteen years of its existence.

A reporter for a Paris newspaper entered a den of lions to prove that it did not require any particular pluck. He was rescued and torn that the surgeons doubt if he can recover.

Several head of cattle were bitten by a mad dog which passed through Merritt township, Mich., the other day. Some who pursued were attacked by the animal butted themselves to death.

One Dr. Tranins, of Vienna, has invented a process by which he declares that good heavy sole leather can be made from the wood of old red beech trees. He has applied for patents.

An Athens, Ga., burglar has a pistol on which he files twelve notches, every one of which he says represents the killing of a man. Pity the burglar couldn't be hanged twelve times.

The greatest snuff taking country in the world is Iceland, though it shows a decline in the habit. In 1860 the consumption was 1,000,000 pounds, or seven ounces per head. Now it is five ounces.

The making of veneered diamonds is a new Paris industry. The body of the gem is cut from quartz and the only gem about it is coated with a solution made from diamond chips and the exact size for cutting.

Mr. McWilliams, of Columbus, O., objected to his hired girl being out every night until midnight, and so the other night he went there and picked up her bundle and departed to find someone with more humanity in it or nature.

Hereafter the boats to be carried by Atlantic steamers instead of being made of wood will be made of steel in one piece. Wooden boats are frequently crushed. The new boats will be built by machinery especially made for rolling them out in all sizes in a single piece.

Daniel Drew, an old man living in Middleport, N. Y., wanted to shave but a barrel when he died, and although he had had the barrel in his house for nine long years, he with a sigh gave the funeral director himself, and he went into a fitted box as contented as the barrel.

The lucky ticket which drew a horse at a raffle in the Fair ground at Bay City, Mich., the other day, was held by Dr. Crockett, who, when he saw the "Gallant Colonel" which had been advertised, immediately surrendered it again to Maj. Gen. Ernst, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic of the United States in 1877. He died in 1876, so it will be seen that this neck yoke is quite a relic. The wood appears to be white oak.

THE LATEST IN JEWELS.

The bell pendant is as popular as ever.

Mexican brooches are still favored by many.

Opal ... settings are much affected as ... rings.

It is not at all unlikely that the cameo will be revived.

Gilt locking cuff buttons indorsed are Roman gold crab backs.

Quite becoming bonnet pins are those with flowered tops in enamel.

Clusters of moonstones in claw settings are new queen chain pendants.

Moonstone buds, edged with tiny brilliants, are among the nicest lace pins.

The silver toothpick fashioned as a sulphur match now has its mate in gold.

Tiny silver bent pipes, an opal serving as the bowl, comprise a very unique scarf pin top.

Fern enamel circular cuff buttons set with diamonds in floral ornamentation are recherche.

Cute little "Saratogas" are counterfeited in silver, as watch charms, and find many admirers.

Some of the more recently designed silver glove buttoners are topped with grotesque characters.

In lace pins of a fanciful order is seen two gold pins, crossing, pearls reposing at the intersection.

Dull gold link buttons ornamented with diagonal rows of turquoises are a decided acquisition.

Cut silver stars form hair pin tops of a charming character and glisten as if set with innumerable gems.

Among the quaintest ideas in silver brooches is a small dog kenneled with the head of its occupant protruding.

Bar pins are hanging in the balance, although some new and attractive designs are continually issuing.

As old a conception as could be imagined is an oxidized silver matchbox, the exact counterpart of a large loan.

A gold crown set with diamonds and sapphires alternately makes a most desirable heading to a double pronged pearl hairpin.

A simple gold net, resplendent with many precious stones and supported by a bar on either side, is deserving of attention as a brooch.

Our jewelers' windows contain some pretty brooches composed of bright gold horns set with rubies and sapphires alternately at stated intervals.

Delightful in its originality is a queen chain pendant in gold, shaped as a claret jug, its outside being set with two slanting rows of pearls crossing.

Charming as a scarf pin top is a peacock feather, the colors of which are reproduced with marvelous accuracy, by precious stones of various tints.

Numbered among the choicest is a silver fruit dish of interlaced wickerwork, ornamented on its outer surface with many blossoms in bold relief.

A most desirable brooch is formed of a network of slender gold wires set around with a rope pattern border, the center of the brooch being filled by a circle of small diamonds.

Forming a base to a massive lamp are four winged quadrupeds in silver, which act as a support to a heavy pear shaped bowl, etched in exquisite taste with mythological scenes.

Perhaps the most pronounced novelty is the skull watch charm, which, by touching an ingeniously concealed spring, may be made to roll a pair of eyes and saucily stick out a tongue.

A miniature white enamel playing card is the newest freak in scarf pins, but that the new of diamonds, which this card represents, should be produced with rubies, is not, it must be confessed, strictly appropriate.

The centennial celebration just passed has been the means of bringing to light some superb silver and gold shields linked together in pairs and appropriately inscribed so to act as memorials. Those are of a size to form suitable decorations for any drawing room.—Jeweler's Review.

FOUNDATIONS OF FORTUNES.

Senator Farwell began life as a surveyor.

Wanamaker's first salary was $1.25 a week.

THREE SNAKE STORIES.

J. W. Griffin, living near Rochelle, Ga., has been bitten twice by rattlesnakes. He says he can cure any snake bite. In 1887 he killed 877 snakes and the next year 982. He expects a bigger record this year.

Oliver Shepherd, a lad of 15, living near Champion, Ind., had an exciting experience with a black snake the other day. He was passing along the road near his home when the reptile appeared from some bushes and attacked him. The boy started to run, and was closely pursued for nearly a mile by the snake.

The largest moccasin snake on record has been found near Lake Okeechobee, Fla. When found it had just completed the task of swallowing a ten foot alligator, and was therefore unable to make his escape. It was said that he measured 16 feet in length and 5 feet in circumference. He was captured with great difficulty, and only "gave up the ghost" after receiving twenty-seven shots from a Winchester rifle.

Traveling or Check.

I witnessed a comedy enacted in front of a theatre a few evenings ago which, for a display of genuine cheek, is worthy to be placed on record. A gentleman came out after the first act and started to go up street, when a handsomely dressed young fellow accosted him.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he said, "but I have lost my door check, and if you are not going to return would you permit me to use yours?"

The gentleman was going to return, and so informed the individual, who thanked him just as fervently as if he had received the check. The next gentleman that came along was similarly accosted, and he gave the fellow his check.

"Have you a seat coupon also?" asked the individual.

This was almost too much.

"Yes, and here's a cigarette to smoke between the acts."

The coupons and cigarette were handed over and I followed the fellow inside to observe how he succeeded. He passed the door and the usher seated him. I could not resist the temptation of informing the manager of the event.

"That beats anything I have heard of," he said. "If you know where the fellow is sitting I'll send him that bouquet," pointing to a bunch of flowers resting on his desk.

The fellow was located and an usher carried down the flowers. The man was not the slightest bit put out. He looked at the flowers, then at the usher. Deliberately taking a white rose from the bunch he placed it in the buttonhole of his coat, and instructed the usher to return the flowers, as he was not fond of them.

There is an old saying to the effect that a cheeky man generally succeeds. If this rule holds, that fellow should some day fill the executive chair at Washington.—Brooklyn Citizen.

The Thirty-second Day.

On the thirty-second day of the thirteenth month of the eighth day of the week,
On the twenty-fifth hour of the sixty first minute, we'll find all things that we seek.
They are there in the limbo of Lollipop land—a cloud island resting in air,
On the Nowhere side of the Mountain of Mist in the Valley of Overthere.

On the Nowhere side of the Mountain of Mist in the Valley of Overthere,
On a solid vapor foundation of cloud are palaces grand and fair,
And there is where our dreams will come true, and the seeds of our hope will grow
On the thitherward side of the Hills of Hope, in the Hamlet of Roses Po.

On the thitherward side of the Hills of Hope, in the Hamlet of Roses Po,
We shall see all the things that we want to see, and know all we care to know;
For there the old men will never lament, the babies they never will squeak,
In the Cross Road Corners of Cheesville, in the County of Hideaway-seek.

In the Cross Road Corners of Cheesville, in the County of Hideaway-seek,
On the thirty second day of the thirteenth month of the eighth day of the week,
We shall do all the things that we please to do, and accomplish whatever we try
On the sunset shore of Somethereorother, by the beautiful Bay of Bimby.

IN this age of adulteration there are few things more difficult to obtain of a pure quality than soap. Unfortunately the mischief by inferior soaps is done before their dangerous nature is discovered. The IVORY SOAP is 99 44/100% pure, so may be relied upon as entirely safe to use.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Spring Disorders

Shattered nerves, tired brain, impure blood, debilitated system, all are the natural outcome in the spring. A medicine must be used, and nothing equals Paine's Celery Compound. We let others praise us—you cannot help believing a disinterested party.

Brigadier-General W. L. Greenleaf, Burlington, Vt., writes: "I have used Paine's Celery Compound on several occasions, and always with benefit. Last spring, being very much run down and debilitated, I commenced taking it. Two bottles made me feel like a new man. As a general tonic and spring medicine I do not know of its equal."

"I have used two bottles of your Paine's Celery Compound, and it has given entire satisfaction as an appetizer and blood purifier." T. L. BERRES, Watertown, Dakota.

Paine's Celery Compound

is prescribed by physicians, recommended by druggists, endorsed by ministers, praised by users, and guaranteed by the manufacturers, as a spring medicine which will do all that is claimed for it. Use it this spring, and see how quickly it tones you up.

LONG LIFE

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off action for their health because they are really careless, not because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then we are constantly bewildered by the variety of remedies and methods, and the physician is consulted, and often a fear even to employ one of a doctor.

If people only knew the very best health-keeping, disease-preventing, disease-destroying, life-giving medicine that has ever been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many notoriously worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names, even as the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with a fine, delicate flavoring.

MANY JINGLING MILLIONS.

COUNTING THE HOARDED TREASURE OF UNCLE SAMUEL.

It Is Done Whenever a New United States Treasurer Takes Charge of the Money Vaults in Washington—Dollars in Gold, Silver and Paper.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The probabilities are you don't know how big a job it is to count a couple of hundred millions of dollars. The average American citizen has been lucky enough to escape all such tasks. Counting two hundred millions of dollars is not in his line. Yet there are seventy such citizens, if by courtesy we may class as citizens a dozen pretty, quick witted and quick fingered young women, who have just such a job on hand. If you think it an easy task step down with me into the basement of the great treasury building, where Uncle Sam's treasure is hoarded. O, so carefully, as if he didn't have many millions more than he knows what to do with. The first conspicuous object which meets our eye is a huge iron cage, looking for all the world like a jail. The guide tells us it is the big silver vault, which was built last year directly under the grass covered courtyard of the treasury building. Within this cage a dozen or more men are at work, and the perspiration runs in rivulets from their bared breasts and arms. It is hot and stifling down here in this vault, there being little or no ventilation, and counting money, particularly silver money, is trying work. At one end of the corridor sit three men beside a pair of scales, and with account books open before them. These men are the official counters of the cash, one appointed by outgoing Treasurer Hyatt, who owes the government more than $100,000,000; another by the incoming treasurer, Mr. Huston, who is a business man of businesslike methods and does not wish to give a receipt even for a little matter of $100,000,000 unless he knows for sure that the money is there, and the third by the secretary of the treasury. All the others are laborers and expert counters detailed to assist in the work. The brawny fellows we see here tossing bags of silver from one to the other are laborers, who at every toss handle a sixty pound bag containing 1,000 silver dollars and who get for their day's work precisely the five-hundredth part of one bag.

A look at this mountain of silver gives one an idea of the vastness and the richness of his country. In the treasury all told are 748,000,000 of these fat, round dollars, and 85,000,000 of them are in this one vault. It is as big as a seaside hotel, this repository of the dollar of our daddies, and is divided off into sections like a new town site. To be exact, the vault is 80 feet long, 51 feet wide and 11 feet high. It will hold a hundred million silver dollars, and is said to be the largest vault in the world. To these hard working and underpaid laborers it must seem as it did to the ancient mariner that there is silver, silver everywhere, and not a drop for their pockets. From one to the other pass the heavy bags, one line of men handing from the compartment toward the scales, and another line passing the bags from the weighers back to another compartment. There is no risk about it, and scarcely a possibility of mistake in the count, the division of the work making it impossible for a bag to be once looked or counted twice. Even if a weak man should get a chance to help himself to all the silver he could carry his theft would not make him very rich, for the strongest man would not undertake to carry more than two or three bags and run fast enough to elude pursuit, nor are any of the laborers likely to slip a bag under their waistcoats on quitting for the night.

Each of the sixteen compartments is provided with lock and key and but one compartment is opened at a time. Not till it is weighed out do the official counters permit another compartment to be opened. The men work all day without seeing the color of silver, unless a bag chances to be broken, which rarely happens. The counting is all done by weight. At the beginning of their task the counters took a bag of new dollars, fresh from the mint, counted its contents, weighed it and made this the standard of weight for each of the remaining bags. The weight of the bags varies but a fraction of an ounce. When stored away in the compartments the bags are put in wooden boxes, two bags to the box. Fifty thousand boxes were required, each a little smaller than an ordinary soap box. It was believed the boxes were needed to enable the workmen to stack the silver up with economy of space, but the boxes take about one-sixth of the room in the vault, and the authorities are discussing the advisability of dispensing with the boxes altogether and of piling the bags one upon another as a farmer would his bags of wheat.

It will take a long time, probably four months, to count all this silver, for there are more than four thousand tons of it. To count it piece by piece would take about seven years. A sporting man who visited the vault the other day made the novel suggestion that, instead of trusting to weights, a staff of faro dealers be employed to stack up the dollars as poker checks are stacked. He said if they wanted accuracy and speed that was the way to get it, and added that he wouldn't mind taking the contract himself, but his proposition was not greeted with favor. Four thousand tons is a gigantic pile of silver. There are enough dollars here to load five freight trains of forty cars each, and if the government should get into war and want to send its silver treasure to the front to pay off the soldiers it would need a string of paymaster wagons seventy-five miles long.

But this is not the only money that has to be counted before Treasurer Huston will be willing to give his receipt to Mr. Hyatt. There is two millions of fractional silver and several thousand dollars in pennies and other minor coin—all of which must be counted piece by piece. There are, too, several millions of the standard dollars which have been in circulation and come back to the treasury slightly worn. These, too, must be counted, as weighing applies as a perfect method of count only to new coin. There is sixteen millions in paper money and twenty-five millions in gold coin—all of which must be counted. For this work the famous women experts of the treasury are used, and the money is counted and recounted and then verified and reverified. Not once in a week is the first counter discovered to have made a mistake, but there is nothing like being sure of a thing where millions of dollars and more precious reputations are involved. In one sense of the word the whole count, which costs the government a good many thousand dollars, is somewhat of a farce, for the reason that all the money the books call for is always found, and it is safe to say Mr. Huston would incur no risks in taking Mr. Hyatt's word for it and giving him a receipt without ado. But that would not be business, and the first man to object to any such proposition would be Mr. Hyatt himself. Four years ago when Mr. Hyatt took the office, the counters thought they had discovered a discrepancy, not a very large one, it is true, but still a discrepancy. Four cents were missing, but as luck would have it these were afterward found on the floor under a piece of paper. No important discrepancies between the cash and the books have ever been discovered in the treasury, but the importance of a thorough count was shown about fifteen years ago, when a count of the funds in the sub-treasury at New York uncovered a shortage of $200,000. A clerk in charge of the internal revenue stamp division had run away to Europe with that amount of stamps.

Nor is this all the counting that must be done before the new treasurer will give the old one his release. There is a vault called the reserve vault, in which is stored the enormous sum of three hundred and twenty-one millions of dollars, all in new notes, crisp and fresh from the money mill. This money is held in reserve for extraordinary demands, and is ready to be paid out at any time. New paper money needs seasoning before going into circulation. The ink must have time to become thoroughly dried and well set in the fiber of the paper. All the complaints that were made some time ago of the workmanship on new notes was caused by sending them out into circulation half seasoned. In addition to this store of millions, greater than the wealth of the Vanderbilts, there is nearly two hundred and fifty millions of dollars in government bonds deposited in the treasury to secure the circulation of national bank notes, and a number of millions of other bonds, such as the Pacific railroad securities, District of Columbia trust funds, etc.

Outgoing Treasurer Hyatt has no fears that the count will show a shortage of funds, and yet he cannot help betraying the liveliest sort of interest in the inventory which will give him final and honorable release from all obligations or cloud his reputation with the misfortune of a loss to his bondsmen. I asked Mr. Hyatt the other day if he would not be glad to get away from such a great responsibility, and he replied: "So glad that I would not take this office again for twenty times its salary. All my life I have been accustomed to the responsible care of large sums of money, but nothing like this. Here there is in my charge about seven hundred millions of cash and securities. To carry on the business of the office and guard the funds I have about 180 assistants, and my reputation is in their hands. Not a man in the office is under bonds, as I do not believe in the bonding system. If a man will not be honest without a bond he will not be honest with one. My own bond is $150,000, a mere bagatelle compared to the responsibility. Of the men here not one had I seen before I took charge of the office, excepting only one, and when a vacancy arose in the staff I was urged by some political friends to appoint a man in whom they were interested. I told them I had no lack of confidence in their man, but as I had made no changes in the office, and had thrown myself entirely on the mercies of the old staff, appointed by men of the party to which I do not belong, so now in filling a vacancy I proposed to leave politics out and take a man whom I personally knew. So I went to Connecticut and got a man I had known from boyhood."

"Is the arrangement of the work such that an employe could, if he wished, get away with a large sum of money?"

"Yes. I am entirely dependent upon the honesty of the men. As an instance, take the reserve vault, in which are $321,000,000 in new paper money. Notes are done up in packages almost square, each about as big as two cigar boxes put together, and 4,000 notes in a package. So, you see, that if a package contains one-dollar notes, its value will be only $4,000; but if it contains thousand-dollar notes, as many of the packages do, its value will be $4,000,000. To this vault three men have access, one through the outside door, another through the second door, and the third through the last one into the vault itself. Now, supposing these three men should form a conspiracy to rob the vault. On quitting work, say of a Saturday night, each man could carry away under his coat from three to five millions of dollars, enough to make him independently rich in any country of the world wherein he would be safe from arrest. By Monday morning they could be in Canada or on the ocean. This is but an instance of the manner in which the responsible head of the office is at the mercy of his subordinates. ROBERT GRAVES.

MR. AND MRS. BOWSER.

It Is Not Every Man Who Can Put Up a Door Screen.

The other morning I asked Mr. Bowser if he wouldn't send up a carpenter to hang the screen door to the kitchen, and, after a moment's thought, he replied:

"I'm in no hurry this morning and I'll hang it myself."

"But it's got to have a spring on, you know."

"Well, what of it?"

"Can you—you"——

"Of course I can! Whoever heard of turning a boring tool any other way?"

"I have. You may work all day that way and not accomplish anything. That gimlet and all other gimlets turn to the right."

"They do, eh? What a smart wife I have! You had better deliver a series of lectures on mechanism."

"Will you turn to the right?"

"No, ma'am!"

He bored and bored, determined not to give in, and at length I pushed him aside, and turned the gimlet to the right and had it into the wood in no time.

"Didn't I tell you so, Mr. Bowser?"

"Well, the man who made that gimlet deserves state prison! It's the first one I ever saw that turned to the right, and I had seen millions of them before you were born."

"Can you put the spring on alone?"

"Mrs. Bowser," he answered, after glaring at me in a chilled steel way for half a minute, "perhaps I ought to be in the idiot asylum, and perhaps I do know enough to come in when it rains. You will oblige me very much by going into the house and knocking that squalling young 'un on the head."

It was half an hour before I dared make an excuse to get out again. By that time Mr. Bowser had the spring on, but the door stood open in lieu of shut. He was standing in a deep study.

"I know what ails it, Mr. Bowser."

"How shrewd!"

"When you tightened the spring up you turned it to the right. That throws the door open. If you'll tighten to the left, the door will spring shut."

He sat down on the step and looked at me with two widely different shades of irony and sarcasm in his expression, and finally deigned to reply:

"Where did you learn all you know?"

"Will you fix that spring as I tell you?"

"No, ma'am, I won't! I've been looking it over, and I know where the trouble is. It's a spring for a left hand door. I should have seen it at the outset if you hadn't been bothering around."

"I can make that spring work on that door."

"Mrs. Bowser, I wouldn't have your conceit for no money. No wonder you haven't a single friend in this neighborhood."

"I have all I want, and I can fix that spring in two minutes."

"Never! You simply want an opportunity to break it. You'd tear the whole kitchen down for the sake of carrying your point. Go in and mind that howling baby some more."

I grabbed the wrench from his hands, loosened the spring and then turned it the other way, and lo! the door shut and was held stiff in its place, as was designed.

"There! Mr. Bowser!"

"There what!"

"The spring shuts the door."

"I don't see it."

"But look! Did you ever see a door work nicer?"

"It doesn't work at all."

"But see!"

"I see a ruined door, just as I expected to see, and now I must get an entire new screen! Mrs. Bowser, I have borne from you until the limit is about reached. Don't provoke me to desperation. Husbands rendered desperate by persistent and malicious nagging have been known to arise at midnight and wipe out the whole family!"—Detroit Free Press.

—The fellows who were kicking on the weather today, and there were lots of them, might have consoled themselves with the reflection that six years ago today there was quite a heavy snow. This is a great country for weather, and if you don't see what you want, ask the weather bureau for it.

—The Bee Line began January 1st a check to its system of conducting excess baggage charges by requiring the weight to be taken by baggage agents both at the initial and destination points. —The Marion Gun Club consisting of Fies, Frame, Kling, Spaulding, Stone, Likens, Neimeyer, Bowers, Thew, Miller, Flash, Payne and Harraman left this morning for Kenton to participate in the shoot at that place today. The boys anticipate very unfavorable weather for the match. The result of the shoot will be given tomorrow.

—It is asserted that some of the boys who have cornets, tubas and trombones in the immediate vicinity of Center street, between East and High, indulge in the practice of solos rather too freely during church hours and annoy the congregation. The knowledge of this fact will doubtless lead them to abstain from tooting too freely at this inappropriate hour.

A quarrel, long and severe, between three ladies was witnessed by those who were fortunate enough to be in the vicinity of city hall Monday evening. The object of their affections, who caused the difficulty, is a prominent young saloon keeper of the city. Not much fighting was indulged in, but the storm blew over in loud talk which aroused the whole neighborhood.

John Noonan's house, on Canal street, was broken into about 2 o'clock this morning, and a beautiful diamond set watch, belonging to Miss Mary, and $10 75 in money were taken. Mr. Noonan heard a noise and arose, but the burglars escaped through the kitchen window. Miss Mary's name is inscribed on the inside of the watch, and there is a diamond set on the back. A liberal reward will be offered for the recovery of the watch.

—The funeral of Joseph F. Lindsay took place from the Presbyterian church today, under direction of that body. We made an inexplicable error in giving date of his birth yesterday, the types saying 1846 when 1829 was meant.

—Mrs. Sarah Scribner is quite dangerously ill at her home on Greenwood street, she having suffered a stroke of paralasis while visiting at the home of her brother at Caledonia. She was brought to this city Monday afternoon.

—Mrs. Lucy Thompson, aged 86 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. Harberson, on north East street, about 5 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Thompson sustained a fracture of the hip some time ago and never fully recovered from it, and also suffered other ills, and a complication of troubles brought about her death. The funeral will take place from the home of S. Harberson, Wednesday, at 3 o'clock.

—Fred Miller was found in Diamond alley Monday afternoon, drunk and dressed up. Although he was creating no disturbance, Policeman Masterson, who made the discovery, concluded an alley was a very unfit place for a gentleman of Fred's style to sleep in, and escorted him to Redd's "home for the intoxicated" where he remained over night. This morning he was requested to donate $5 to the city treasury, by Mayor Galley, for the accommodations he had received, which he did and departed.

—Mayor Galley recently completed the building of a play house for his little son and daughter that is a marvel of architecture and workmanship, and yet it was all constructed by his own hands, entirely unaided by sight. The structure is finely finished and none could tell but that it was the work of the very best mechanic enjoying excellent eyesight. Of course His Honor is proud of his accomplishment, but is not likely to follow the building business, even though he handles the saw, plane and hammer as perfectly and almost as rapidly as an expert.

An Exciting Runaway.

Will Randall, Kerr House night clerk, and one of Robbins' bill posters experienced a thrilling runaway on Monday night. They were driving from the west toward Green Camp, with one of Johnston's spotted teams, when the horses became frightened and began to run. Randall endeavored to check them, but they neared the Scioto bridge without any diminution in their speed. Here came the danger. A lady and two children were driving over the bridge without the least knowledge of the approaching team and Randall could not warn them, so as his team dashed into the bridge, knowing the peril of collision and without a thought for his own safety, he turned his horses so that they struck the side of the bridge, and a fearful wreck of his rig resulted. He was hurled fifteen feet and knocked temporarily unconscious, but all injury to the woman and children was averted.

Sad, but True.

"What is the most disagreeable sensation you ever experienced?" This was the question sprung at an experience meeting Monday afternoon, and each of the four answering vied with the others in excelling. One said he had polished stove pipes by rubbing one joint on another, and his heaters shuddered. Another said he roomed next to the headquarters of a newly organized brass band, and his companions at once expressed sympathy. The third said he had not only run a machine for cleaning castings at a malleable iron foundry but once held four queens against four aces. The crowd agreed that man was a martyr, but when the fourth said "I have driven for one hour over Marion's repaired streets," they yielded him the prize and telegraphed to Mt. Gilead for a car load of sympathy for him, to be sent via Mt. Vernon and Galion over Boone's Black Diamond.

A Couple Fingers Mashed.

Fred Beckley a stone mason employed on the new Bennett building, met with a very painful accident while at work Monday afternoon on the new foundation. A large stone fell from its position on the old foundation, striking his right hand and mashing two fingers of that member in a horrible manner. He was immediately taken to Dr. Sweney's office where his injuries were attended. It was thought at first amputation of the third and little fingers would be necessary, but after the wounds had been thoroughly examined, Dr. Sweney concluded he could save the fingers.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

Of the Marion Building Association—Subscribed Capital $210,500.

Secretary Durfee issued the first annual report of the Marion Building, Savings and Loan company on Monday evening, and from it we glean the following interesting figures:

Number of deposit members 327, holding 1607 shares; number of loan members 87, holding 455 shares; sixteen certificates of paid-up stock have been issued, representing 103 shares, making a total of 2105 shares held, representing $216,500 subscribed capital.

The total deposits during the year amount to $48,016.92, the total earnings $2,020.15, which with pass-book and certificate fees amount to $50,169.44. Of this sum, $43,150 has been disbursed on mortgages, $5,298.08 withdrawn, $429.26 paid in dividends, and $702.79 expended in furniture, expenses, etc.

At the ending of the year the total assets represent $40,233.73, which is balanced by the following liabilities: Book deposits $26,775.81, certificate deposits $10,300, May dividend unpaid $1,040.21, uncollected earnings $14.76, surplus $101.92.

The association is in fine condition and continues to grow. The good that has come from its existence during the year is too vast to estimate, both in the line of savings and assisting in the securing of homes.

Bowling Green.

The Bowling Green Sunday school will have the exercises for children's day Sunday evening, May 26th. Quite an interest is taken in this affair, as last year they had the first of this observance; they want to exceed it by far.

The Sunday school of this township is one of the most attractive features among us, therefore we must not omit it's workings. The banner class in collection last Sunday was 47 cents. The number present was 193; penny collection $1.53. Everybody is invited to visit our Sunday school.

The farmers are all done planting their corn and quite a lot of it is coming through the ground.

Sheep shearing is here and several are waiting till next week to shear.

Mr. Garwood, who has been very sick recently, is under the care of Dr. Mouser, of LaRue.

David Bell, our township clerk, has accepted the Mt. Olive school for next winter. Dave is one of our best teachers and is well liked by everybody.

Dan Rice Praises the Circus.

"Uncle Dan" Rice sat in a box at the Robbins Winter Circus, in the American Institute building, on Friday night, and talked circus lore by the yard. In the course of his observations he remarked, "Well Robbins ain't a robbin' anybody with this show." Indeed, the venerable clown was greatly pleased with the winter circus. The receipts during the past week have, Mr. Robbins says, fully fortified his belief that a clean old fashioned circus could be made one of the prominent features of New York's round of winter amusements.—New York Tribune.
